

MUTLICODE RECEIVER

Abstract of the Disclosure

5 A code division multiple access (CDMA) receiver detects, de-scrambles, and de-spreads multiple channels that utilize different binary codes. The processing that is common to all channels can be performed once thus saving gate count and power consumption.